

Adore Event Dressing Terms and Conditions

By hiring our services you are agreeing to the following terms and conditions.

1. Deposit & Payments

A £100.00 standard deposit (unless agreed) is required to secure the date of your event and allocation of products for hire. Bookings are not allocated to a client until a full deposit is received. Provisional bookings can be made but at the discretion of Adore Event Dressing, should there be a clash of dates between 2 parties both will be notified and the booking allocated to the first successful payment. Should prices from Adore Event Dressing increase, and should a deposit not have been paid you will be charged the new increased prices, however clients will be informed of any price increases before-hand. Said deposit is non-refundable & is subtracted from the final amount owed. The final total payment/balance is required a full 6 weeks prior to the event (unless otherwise agreed) and can be paid by cheque, cash, balance transfer or PayPal. Final numbers of persons attending the event is also required at this time and this is the number of which Adore Event Dressing will work from. Any additional numbers shall be charged and are at the discretion of Adore Event Dressing.

2. Refundable Damages Deposit

A damages fee is required on all bookings. The damages fee covers any potential damage that may occur to our products whilst hired out to your event. The damages fee is refundable and shall be returned to the client once goods/products have been returned and inspected.

3. Ownership

All products and equipment remain the property of Adore Event Dressing.

4. Loss & Damage

If damage or loss occurs the client must pay the replacement value of the products. This excludes stains that can be removed. The cost of the products will be deducted from the damages fee and any remaining monies shall be returned to you. Should the replacement cost exceed the damages fee, you will be then invoiced for the amount exceeding the damages fee. Damage that is deemed irreversible and prone to additional charges include for example, cigarette burns, graffiti, breakages, footprints, excessive stains, tears, rips. Reversible damage such as minor stains and scuffs will not be charged and are the discretion of Adore Event Dressing.

5. Cancellations

Adore Event Dressing understands that cancellations to bookings may occur for a variety of different and potentially difficult circumstances. If a cancellation were to occur you will unfortunately forfeit the deposit you have paid. Cancellations occurring within 6 weeks prior to the date of the event full payment is required. Cancellations prior to 6 weeks before your event do not require any additional payments beyond stock purchased for your event, time spent on the planning of your event.

6. Hired Products & Items

The total number of covers/items either collected from Adore Event Dressing fitted and left at your venue is what we expect to receive upon collection after your event. If loss occurs we will first contact the venue to locate any lost item(s). If however, the item(s) is/are not recovered, we will invoice the lead contact. It will be the sole responsibility of the lead contact for the safeguarding our items before, during and after the event until collection. It is the understanding of the client that equipment hired from Adore Event Dressing in most circumstances will have had prior use at previous events and some minor irreversible damage may still be visible on some equipment such as scratches and scuffs. All chair covers are laundered at the earliest opportunity after the event, folded and stored in a suitable environment.

7. Product Usage

It is the understanding of the client that all products hired are to be used for its intended purpose. It is the responsibility of the client to ensure the equipment hired from Adore Event Dressing is used appropriately and that children are supervised around products such as lighting, backdrops, candles and smaller items. Should items be required to be moved during your event, Adore Event Dressing are in no way responsible for the standard of dressing once items have been moved. Adore Event Dressing are not responsible for any movement of items during the event.

8. Access:

It is the responsibility of the hirer to ensure that the tables and chairs to be dressed are made available prior to dressing at an agreed time at the venue. Adore Event Dressing is not responsible for the arrangement of tables and chairs at the event venue, this includes cutlery, table clothes, napkins, place cards and seating arrangement. Adore Event Dressing is responsible for the dressing and undressing of the venue using only products hired from Adore Event Dressing. It is the responsibility of the client to ensure that Adore Event Dressing are kept informed of any changes to the event that may have an impact upon the services carried out by Adore Event Dressing such as, changes to the logistics of the event or type of chair being used. Adore Event Dressing is in no way responsible for any issues arising due to lack of communication from the client or venue.

9. Collection

Collection of equipment will be carried out by Adore Event Dressing after the event at an agreed time and location. It is the client's responsibility to ensure that equipment is ready and available for collection at the agreed time. Any failed collections will be charged.

10. Returns
